TMZ: LiLo wants out!

PHOTOS: GETTY
Lindsay Lohan

Like any fashionable actress, Lindsay Lohan likes to shop around — and she's got her eye on a new rehab center, according to TMZ.

Lohan arrived at The Betty Ford Center on May 2, but now she wants to switch facilities because doctors have cut off her supply of Adderall.

But TMZ reports prosecutors aren't heeding her complaints, saying that last week the facility was filling Lohan's prescription because of a ADHD diagnosis, but that changed over the weekend when doctors decided there were less addictive substitutes.

Sources told TMZ that Lohan is researching other facilities and even found a replacement center on the West Coast because Betty Ford is too "old school." But officials told TMZ that prosecutors aren't going to approve a move.

"She had 45 days to find a suitable place. She didn't listen to ... and just did what she wanted," a source told TMZ.

Despite the TMZ report, Dina Lohan told the Daily News her daughter's rehab was going fine. "She's doing great," she said.

Lohan, 26, got 90 days in a treatment facility for charges stemming from her California car crash last year. (ANNA SANDERS)

'Today's' Guthrie getting hitched to BF of four years

It was a big day on "Today" for morning show anchor Savannah Guthrie.

She announced yesterday morning on the show that she is engaged to Michael Feldman, her boyfriend of four years. Guthrie, 41 was all smiles as she shared the news that Feldman proposed over Mother's Day weekend, but said her wedding will not be broadcast on the show.

"Our families basically have been in-laws for years," she said. "They've just been waiting for us to catch up." Her "Today" partner Matt Lauer also wished them well. Guthrie was married to BBC News presenter Mark Orchard from 2005 to 2009. (NEWSDAY)

'The Great Gatsby' will open the festival.

Glam 'Gatsby' fitting at Cannes

The 2013 Cannes film festival opens tomorrow with Baz Luhrmann's 3-D version of "The Great Gatsby," a lavish throwback to the Roaring Twenties that befits the glamour and luxuriance of the world's biggest cinema showcase.

The Australian director's adaptation of F. Scott Fitzgerald's novel starring Leonardo DiCaprio surprised some Hollywood insiders, because Cannes traditionally launches on the palm-lined French Riviera with a splashy world premiere.

But "The Great Gatsby" already opened in the U.S. to mixed reviews and a solid box office, potentially dampening buzz surrounding the start of 12 days of screenings, champagne-fueled parties and dealmaking.

Critics have praised the selection of films being screened at the 66th Cannes festival, saying it is a strong, well-curated list ranging from hotly anticipated potential crowd pleasers to beautifully crafted, artistic cinema. (REUTERS)
